Purlieu Solutions acquires the USA business operations of Australian technology company, Admerex Limited

Move seen as Purlieu's springboard back into the receivables management business in the volatile U.S. market

ATLANTA, GA November 23, 2008: Purlieu Solutions, LLC (Purlieu) of Atlanta, GA, a global provider of business opportunity and receivables management services, announced today that it has acquired the USA business operations of Admerex Ltd (ASX: ADL) of Sydney Australia. The terms of the transaction (for an undisclosed amount) calls for Purlieu to absorb all the CWX software clients in the U.S. market as well as acquiring its Atlanta GA sales and operations support center. In addition, the new Admerex 200 seat Savannah GA contact center has been acquired and Purlieu will begin immediately building up and increasing production from its current collections operations in order to take advantage of the increased capacity.

Burton Crapps, CEO and Founder of Purlieu Solutions LLC, commenting on this milestone transaction states "We are excited about this acquisition of the Admerex business in the Americas, as it greatly enhances our growing position as a leader in the receivables management and call center industry. Our team happens to be some of the original founders and developers of the business in Admerex, and we look forward to taking it on to great success". Crapps continues, "We think the timing of the economic situation combined with the increasing levels of debt burdens by consumers, makes it an
